

LAKE PROJECT NEAR HILLSBORO GETS APPROVAL

Fate of Proposal for Dam
Long Eyed by People Here
Subject for Speculation

Whether the prospects for a big reservoir-lake at "the point" just west of Bainbridge, to which people of this community have been looking forward hopefully as an outdoor recreation spot for years, have gone glimmering with the announced approval of another similar project near Hillsboro today was a matter of speculation here.

Possibilities of a reservoir in Fayette County are considered remote because of lack of sizable streams and valleys suitable for inundating with back-water from a dam.

While the proposal for a dam across Rocky Fork Creek which would back up a reservoir to about four miles south of Hillsboro has the approval of the State Conservation Commission, the project still requires an appropriation by the legislature.

Plans call for a dam 50 feet high and 146 feet long between two rocky cliffs just above McCoppin's Mill. Engineers calculate that would back up water seven to eight miles and form a lake within 30 miles of shoreline. The lake would be fed by unpolluted streams and springs. It would be under state supervision and designed for propagation of fish. Proponents of the project have argued that it would raise the underground water table, a problem considered of great importance to Hillsboro, and serve to control floods. The dam is calculated to cost around $100,000, considerably more than the amount expected to be needed to purchase the land and buildings the lake would affect.

Supporters of the project contend the lake would be available to nearly 2,000,000 residents of the area within a 70-mile radius as a recreation spot.

TUNNEL ESCAPE PLOT IN PENITENTIARY IS NIPPED AND FOUR ARE CAUGHT

prisonment by former governor Martin L. Davey.

Fred Parsley, 27, sentenced from Lawrence County in March, 1937, to serve a life sentence for first degree murder. A jury which convicted him recommended mercy.

Don Browning, 23, received from Lawrence County April 29, 1942, to serve 1 to 25 years for unarmed robbery.

Douglas Bonecutter, 24, received from Richland County January 23, 1943, to serve three to 20 years for forcible rape.

Henderson said a watch had been kept over the tunnel after a lock to the entrance had been found jimmied. The tunnel, one of several underlying the century-old mid-town prison was just outside a "spud room" where potatoes were stored under the penitentiary dining hall. The three men questioned in the plot were caught in the spud room.

Guards reported the tunneling quartet had enlarged a 30-inch ventilator sufficiently to permit them to crawl inside for digging. At the end of the workings guards found two shovels, a sledge, several picks, a hack saw, lantern and three knives.

The men had removed part of the dining hall foundation, dug underneath a narrow alleyway and moved part of the wall of the industrial arts building, Henderson said.

"It would have been almost impossible for them to dig through or under the main outside wall, however," the warden asserted. "They didn't know what they were headed for in that respect," he added.

Henderson said he believed the diggers had been tipped off just before the raid but had been unable to get out of the tunnel before guards were upon them.

He explained that any noise in the dining hall could be heard plainly in the spud room underneath, making it difficult for guards to surprise diggers completely.

Henderson said the quartet

OUTCOME OF ELECTION MAY HANG ON SOLDIERS' VOTES BECAUSE OF LATE COUNTS

which do not immediately tabulate it, and the 11—including Pennsylvania with 36, California with 22 and Missouri with 15—have a combined electoral vote of 116. President Wilson's electoral margin over Charles Evans Hughes in 1916 was only 23.

In Pennsylvania, where officials expect 200,000 to 300,000 soldier ballots, the absentee vote will be counted November 22. "The votes of 100,000 to 125,000 persons could easily swing a close election," commented a member of Governor Edward Martin's official family.

California, whose secretary of state predicts a service vote of 175,000 to 200,000, will not canvass it until November 24. Missouri, receiving more than 1,000 ballot applications daily, will start counting absentee votes the Friday after election day.

Of the states which will defer their soldier vote count, eight gave President Roosevelt a total of 99 electoral votes in 1940. The other three gave Wendell L. Willkie 17.

Besides Nebraska, Pennsylvania, California and Missouri, the states which will add up some or all of their soldier votes after election day are: Colorado, six electoral votes, November 22; Delaware, three, November 9; Florida, seven, November 17; North Dakota, four, December 5; Rhode Island, four, December 4; Utah, four, November 27; and Washington, eight, November 27.

Florida's canvassing boards usually meet the Friday after election although the law gives them until Nov. 17. Utah counts state ballots on election day but federal ballots may be counted until Nov. 12 and would not be shown in the total count until the official canvass November 27.

WHS GRADUATE IS PROMOTED IN FIELD

Homer Timmons Given Rating
Of Corporal in New Guinea

Cpl. Homer Timmons, 1942 WCH graduate who wears the New Guinea campaign ribbon with a bronze star, has been promoted from private first class to corporal, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Homer Timmons, Sr., of London, learned today.

Cpl. Homer Timmons

Cpl. Timmons received his promotion somewhere in the New Guinea area. He received the campaign ribbon early in July, a few months more than a year after he entered the service March 19, 1943.

The new corporal was a member of the Blue Lions football squad when he attended Washington C. H. High School.

ALLIED FORCES SPREAD ALL OVER FRANCE: FIGHT FLARES AGAIN IN PARIS

able to liberate their city, and inflicted heavy casualties in street fighting, French headquarters declared.

Driving 25 miles down the Seine, steel-tipped U. S. columns seized Elbeuf, only 30 miles from the river's mouth and nine from the big city of Rouen. Canadian, British and American armies closed in the western and southern ends of the noose on 90,000 Nazis. Planes wrecked 500 enemy vehicles and 15 river escape barges.

Other Americans curving south-east of Paris—entered in triumph by the French Second Armored division—punched within less than 150 miles of the German frontier, pushing beyond Sens. Two more spearheads were put over the upper Seine near Fontainebleau.

Hitler's Grip Slipping
Adolf Hitler's grip on France slipped with almost unbelievable rapidity in almost every direction today.

Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's U. S. Seventh army reached the Swiss frontier after a drive of 200 miles in 10 days through the French Alps from the Mediterranean.

Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's U. S. Third Army had pushed 15 miles beyond Sens toward the German frontier, 150 miles away. The two forces apparently were less than 200 miles from a junction isolating all southern France—but already much of southern France is free.

An Algiers broadcast said Bordeaux, big French port on the south Atlantic coast, had been captured by a combined force of Americans driving south from the Loire and French Maquis who had marched north from the Spanish border.

French Patriots were reported in control of the entire Lyon region, the great southern metropolis on the Rhone in southern France, and at Perpignan, just north of the Spanish border on the Gulf of Lion.

German troops and tanks paraded through the streets of Paris three days before its liberation "firing into crowds and killing many civilians," Lt. Gen. Joseph Pierre Koenig said in a communique today.

The commander of the French forces of the interior which delivered the capital said 1,000 German prisoners were captured and a dozen heavy tanks were destroyed in the first day of fighting along with a large number of other weapons.

The supreme command still had no news of any Allied troops in Paris, but said they were moving on the capital, liberated by French Patriot forces. Field reports said a French armored division was being given the honor of entering Paris first.

Southeast of Paris the Americans thrust two more spearheads across the Seine in the vicinity of Fontainebleau. There was no further news of an American armored column which last was reported 15 miles beyond Sens, 65 miles southeast of Paris, in a drive aimed toward the borders of Germany, 150 miles away.

Allied Air Power

The German air force reacted violently to these latest direct American advances toward the Reich, but Allied fliers shot down 37 of the enemy's planes. The Allied fliers lost four of their own planes.

Night attacks by RAF Mosquitos raised the 24-hour bag of German tanks, barges and vehicles destroyed and damaged to around 1,000.

The American advance to Elbeuf, which captured Louviers enroute, blocked the Germans from two of their principal Seine crossing points near Elbeuf. The main crossings remaining were at Rouen, Duclair, Caudebec, and Quillebeuf. Mosquitos last night bombed a dozen barges at Duclair, setting off heavy explosions, an indication the Germans are trying to evacuate ammunition.

Lifting clouds today indicated the Allied airmen could keep a constant blockade over the river from Elbeuf to the sea at any moment.

Fighting in Paris
Scattered resistance groups still were being engaged in pockets around Paris.

Advices from Paris said a French soldier of legendary fame, Brig. Gen. Jacques Le Clerc, headed the troops as they joined Patriots in the city on orders from Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley. Le Clerc, a dashing cavalry officer who escaped from the Germans after the fall of France to fight in the African campaign, is known as Gen. Charles De Gaulle's "right arm." Le Clerc is not his real name, but a nom de guerre assumed to protect his family in France.

Hal Boyle, Associated Press correspondent with the American armies driving beyond Sens toward the German border, said in a field dispatch that the Americans could have entered Paris at will during the last few days, but that Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's forces were more concerned with the task of chopping the Germans to pieces.

Roughly one third of France, 212,569 square miles, has been liberated by the Allied armies and the French forces of the interior and the last vestige of the Vichy government of Pierre Laval has disappeared as a political force.

Radio-France at Algiers reported the liberation of the Lyon region and said three Allied planes already had landed at Perpignan to establish contact with the FFI. Lyon is 240 miles southwest of Paris, while Perpignan is at the west end of the Pyrenees that form the border between Spain and France.

In Southern France

Edward Kennedy, Associated Press correspondent in southern France, where American and French troops have already captured Marseille, said the French now appear "united as they never were in peacetime." He said there was little on the surface to support oft-heard predictions that liberation of France would be followed by civil war.

(The German ambassador to Switzerland was reported by the secret German-language station radio Atlantik last night to have asked the Swiss government for asylum for Laval. There was no confirmation elsewhere of the broadcast report, heard by NBC.

(Laval, chief of government in the Vichy regime, was last reported to be virtually a prisoner of the Nazis in Belfort.)

At Salon, the Americans were but 20 miles from Arles at the south end of the Rhone, a natural gateway into France.

Headquarters gave no details of the French drive westward from Marseille toward the lower Rhone.

Other French units, it declared, were mopping up German pockets in the naval base of Toulon to the east.

Collaborating with the fast-stepping Allied columns were B-25's which bombed two bridges ahead of two German Panzer divisions, headed apparently for the Riviera beachhead. Mitchells struck at rail centers in south France and found a good target at Settimo, 40 miles north of Turin, where German troops were reported massed.

There was no report yet of how much damage had been done to Marseille, normally a busy industrial city.

The French and Americans slammed into the city's outskirts after overwhelming the suburbs of Mont Du Paradis, Carquieranne and Mont Des Oiseaux.

Sid Feder, Associated Press correspondent, said he and four other American correspondents, caught in the extreme front line of the battle for Marseille, saw the attack unfold step by step.

"The most fearful, awful moment came when the Germans fired 37 millimeter guns virtually point blank into a column of their own soldiers who were taken prisoner by the French and were being marched along the street," Feder said.

Feder said reports from the port area were that the enemy had sunk vessels in the narrow throat of each basin and had mined the entire harbor in an attempt to prevent its use by the Allies.

lection of recent Superfortress attacks on the home islands. American bombers, Tokyo radio quoted him as saying, last night, were certain to increase their blows.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur contributed to this gloomy enemy appraisal with successful attacks on six ships south of the Philippines. Mindanao was hit for the tenth time by MacArthur's raiders and big fires were kindled in the island's main city of Davao. Hal-mahera Island 300 miles south was bombed again.

The bitter bloodletting center-

THE WAR TODAY

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Romania's double back-flop—surrender to the Allies and war against the Germans—will render the Balkan Peninsula untenable for Hitler although he will hang on as long as he can as a further measure to delay his own capitulation.

The Romanian turnabout represents another great military victory for the Allies, although diplomacy has played its part. This biggest of the Balkan countries has flown the white flag because she has been beaten in battle and was about to be overrun by the Red forces which were bearing down on her from the north. The importance of her surrender is fourfold:

1. Bulgaria, already wavering, may be expected to follow suit now that her next door neighbor has deserted the Nazi camp.

2. Hungary, which also lies against Romania's border, is now vulnerable to direct attack—and Hungary is Germany's southeastern shield. The great Danubian basin, which is a gateway into the Reich, will now be open to the Allies.

3. Hitler will lose great supplies of which he is in desperate need.

4. The moral effect of the move around, especially in Germany and Japan, will be great. It's the sort of thing that's breaking the hearts of the Nazis and the Nipponese.

So far as Romania itself is concerned, it has represented Hitler's greatest source of supplies in the Balkans. Not only has he depended heavily on the Ploesti oil to keep his war machine running, but his fertile Balkan state has been a land flowing with milk and honey.

Romania produces vast quantities of corn and other foodstuffs which have played their important part in keeping the people of Germany loyal to the Fuehrer. No small degree of his success in maintaining his home front has been due to the fact that he has kept the masses sufficiently well fed.

While we don't need to regard Romania's move in the light of the returning prodigal, and kill the fatted calf, yet we can have a tolerant understanding of her position. A substantial portion of the population always has been pro-Ally and representatives of that element now have taken over the government. It's encouraging to see in the cabinet that distinguished old peasant leader, Iuliu Maniu, who for many years has been a steady influence among his people.

There was, however, even before the war a very considerable Fascist movement in Romania, with leanings towards both Italy and Germany. The Fascist organization was known as the Iron Guard, and one of the prominent adherents was the same general Ion Antonescu who has been head of the puppet government which has been doing Hitler's will.

However, there was more than that to the story. Germany had politico-economic domination of Romania—as it did of neighboring countries. When I was in Bucharest in 1938, just after Munich, I found that Hitler held that part of the world in the palm of his hand. The explanation was simple: Countries like Romania and Hungary were marketing more than fifty per cent of their products in Germany—and they had absolutely no alternative market. The Nazi dictator could bankrupt them almost overnight by withdrawing his patronage.

So it was that when he demanded Romanian adherence to the Axis, he got it. Antonescu and his outfit handed over their birthright for a mess of pottage which now must stink in their nostrils.

CLERKS SAVE CORN AT CANNING FACTORY IN WCH

31 Men and Women Jump in at Ladoga Company When Help Is Needed

A frantic call for more help came from the Ladoga Canning Company to the United States Employment Service Office Tuesday around 2 P. M.

"It's piling up on us and we need at least 25 more people fast," Harry Hyer, manager of the Ladoga Company, told Ward C. Miller, manager of the USES office.

Miller got busy right away. He canvassed business houses downtown; he buttonholed people walking on the streets; he scoured the business district and came out with 31 men and women from the G. C. Murphy Company, Penney's, Steen's, Cussins and Fearn and the Bargain Store.

They worked for 50 cents an hour, but that wasn't the main consideration. The 31 men and women worked because they were needed and needed badly. And their work bore fruits, for several hundred cases of corn were packed and sent on their way to servicemen that might have spoiled if the workers had not been so willing recruited.

Crop Exceeds Hopes
"I don't know where it's all coming from," Harry Hyer said of the between 2,000 and 2,500 tons of sweet corn pouring into the Sycamore Street canning factory. He said he had expected 30 per cent of the 1,450 acres planted and instead it "looks like 50 per cent."

He said the quality was "fine" but the grains were short and the corn was yielding fewer cans per ton than last year.

At the Fayette Canning Company, Miss Lena Smith, manager, said they were expecting a yield of around 50 per cent of their crop—around 1,200 acres—but added she could make no definite estimate until the pack was completed in two weeks more.

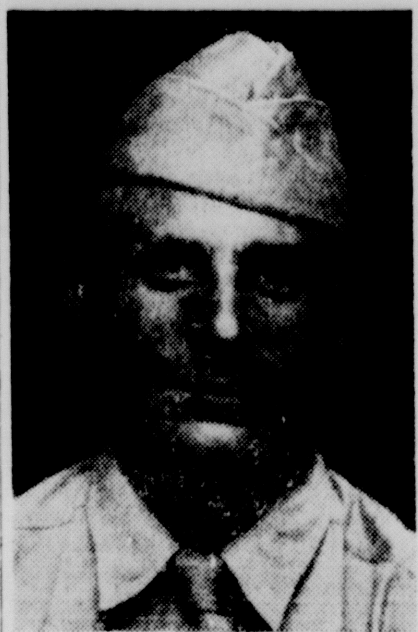

The Fayette Company is using one canning line right now and is canning both corn and tomatoes. Although tomatoes are in the minority their quality is especially good, Miss Smith said. She said the corn quality was good also. No definite figures on the pack's progress could be released because of government restrictions, Miss Smith said. They do not need any more workers, she added.

His furlough ends August 29, at which time he will return to Ft. Benning.

BALKANS COLLAPSING UNDER HITLER; ROMANIA FIGHTING HUNGARY NOW

his war machines. Allied bombing, however, has reduced this flow to a comparative trickle.

The Nazi-controlled puppet regime of Hungary ordered today the dissolution of all political parties, apparently fearing intrigue to take Hungary out of the war. The cabinet order was published in the official gazette and as reported by DNE, official German news agency, decreed that every political party "irrespective of its political outlook," must dissolve at once.

Property belonging to former party organizations was frozen pending further disposition. Severe penalties were provided for violations.

The Finnish minister to Sweden, G. A. Gripenberg, suddenly departed by air today for Helsinki in a journey obviously connected with efforts to get Finland out of the war.

Reliable quarters said, however, that "as far as we know, the Finnish government has made no attempt to contact Moscow up to Thursday morning."

It was Gripenberg's second trip to Helsinki in two weeks.

Opinion here was that Romania's exit from the war might hasten action by Baron Mannerheim, president of marshal of Finland.

Politically, Hitler Balkan edifice was cracking badly. Bulgaria has been edging toward peace for at least a week. After the Romanian announcement, the cabinet of puppet Slovakia reported "important decisions" were made in an "urgent" meeting.

Hungary is still tightly in the Nazi grip, but the effect there was expected to be electric—especially since King Mihai declared conquest of Transylvania a major Romanian objective.

Without specific mention of Romania's shift, the Moscow radio called upon the German people to "surrender immediately," adding: "This is the eve of victory for the Allied nations."

King Mihai's proclamation said "Romania has accepted armistice terms offered by the Soviet Union, Great Britain and the United States." There was no immediate comment in any of the Allied capitals as to what the armistice embraced.

The Bucharest announcements said the Allied governments had guaranteed Romania's independence, had promised non-interference with internal affairs, and had recognized "the injustice" of Germany's award of Transylvania to Hungary at a Vienna arbitration conference in 1940.

MERCURY DIVES TO 53 AS SWEATERS DONNED

Sweaters came out of mothballs and went to work Thursday morning, for the mercury tumbled down from 65 to a chilly 53. Electric fans were switched off and doors pulled shut with a low of 51 in the night.

Wednesday's rainfall was nearly half an inch. Officially, the rainfall was recorded as .48 of an inch.

A year ago it was hot, 87 degrees was the maximum temperature chalked up.

The Underground at Work

The French Underground, which went into open action with the Normandy landings, is now playing a decisive part in the liberation of France. The two great Allied drives are aimed at the interior, where Underground resistance apparently has been fiercer and organization more elaborate than in the coastal regions.

If the Underground did nothing more than cooperate with Allied troops in each city and village that they reached, the help would be of tremendous value. For these trained Underground soldiers—many of them army men who chose to battle the Nazis at home when escape to Africa might have been possible—form a ready-made espionage and reconnaissance unit.

They can advise Allied commanders of enemy strengths and weaknesses. They can warn of snipers and mine fields, and very possibly can assist in keeping the enemy off balance in the event of rapid retreat. These things alone would mean much. But the Underground can also give much help in the quick reorganization of civil government, thus saving the advancing armies time and personnel.

Nor does the help end there. For the Maquis control much territory in the hills of central France. This is now on the escape route both for the Nazi forces facing the new advance from the south and for those evacuating southwestern France. If the Partisans can be supplied with rifles and machine guns by air, they could well make the Nazi retreats slow and costly.

The campaign in France already has shown the difference between the French and Italians under similar circumstances. The Italians were disheartened and disillusioned, sick of war and fascism, more torn by factional disputes than were the residents of metropolitan France.

But for the French Underground the war is only now approaching its climax. The Underground fighters have reached the last mile on their road to liberation, a road down which they have labored through humiliation and tragedy, but with infinite patience and cunning, for four years.

These labors did much to pave the way for the successful invasion. But they are not finished, and will not be finished until the Underground has completed its work, and with it one of the noblest chapters in French history.

Opportunity for Pioneers

For those pioneer souls who need the challenge of undeveloped territory to bring out the best of their talents, Latin America offers almost unlimited postwar opportunities. The range of opportunity is as great as the imagination and enterprise of those who will go south seeking their fortunes.

The nations to the south are blessed with a wealth of raw materials yet untapped. There is untold mineral wealth waiting to be mined; great virgin forests; warm seas full of fish; thousands of acres of good earth waiting to be tilled. Industries, transportation systems, communication lines, stores, and service organizations are waiting to be established.

YOUNGSTOWN—The well-equipped Youngstown policeman carries for purposes of identification a handbook on biology.

"There's a funny looking animal hanging around the garbage can on my back porch," an excited lady from the North Side phoned. "Can you send out an officer to tell me what it is and how to dispose of it?" The animal was a possum.

The case that momentarily stumped the department was a request for help in hiving a swarm of bees. They called an expert bee man, since the well-equipped policeman does not carry veils, gloves and a smoking outfit.

to open the door to North Americans, but before anyone packs up and buys a ticket for points south, he should understand that he must be more than a good neighbor to get along in Latin America. He must, as a matter of fact, stop being a neighbor and become one of the family.

Latin America will not be exploited by those who want to strip her of her wealth and leave her. The opportunities are open to those who will stay south, to those who will build a home in a new land and share in increasing the welfare of those who are already there. There is little opportunity in Latin America for any man unless he is ready to learn a new language, to live his life in a new home, and to do his best to understand a different people.

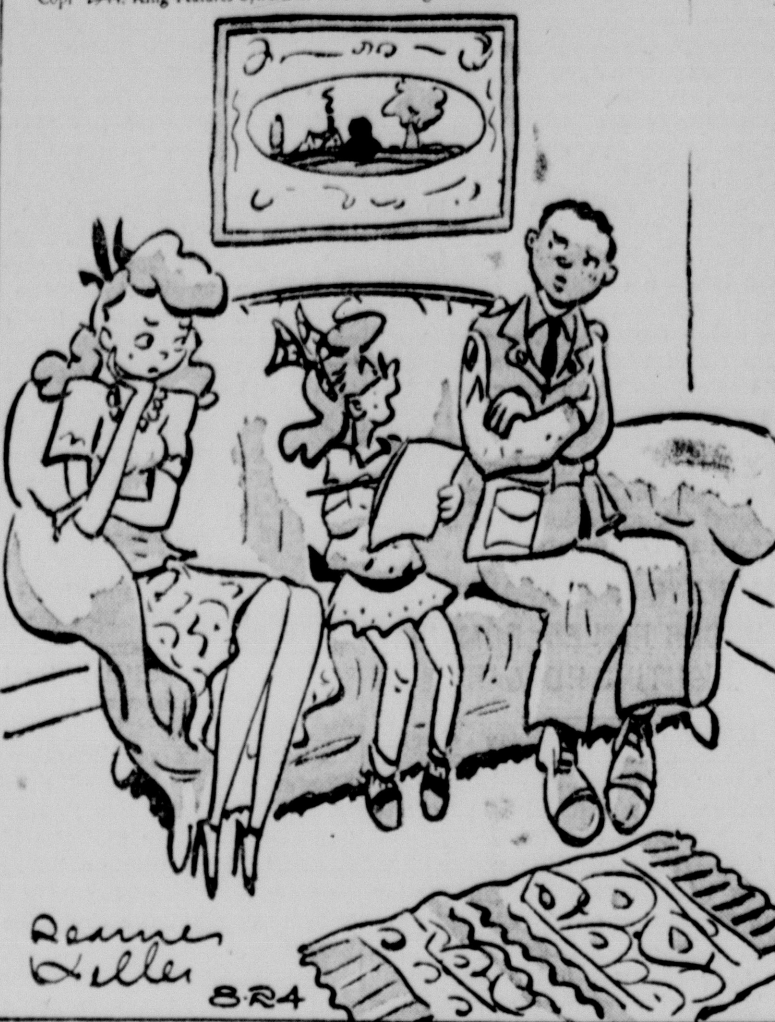

Great Lakes' Traffic

Men in service who hail from the area about the Great Lakes are often astonished by the ignorance displayed by people from other parts of the United States regarding those saltless seas. In their letters or on their furloughs they never tire of telling how their friends imagine the lakes to be about the size of Central Park pond or Piney Lake back home, and that if more than five row boats are out at the same time a traffic problem is created.

The average soldier's surprise at hearing that the lakes carry more tonnage in eight or nine months than the Panama Canal does in twelve, and that most of the ships on the lakes are from a third to a half again as big as Liberty ships, has to be seen to be believed. A large population of the United States depends on the lakes directly or indirectly for the necessities and luxuries of life. The grain from the great northwest comes down the lakes, and coal to keep their people warm in winter goes up, together with many other commodities.

Adult Emergencies—What To Do Till the Doctor Comes

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M.D.
YESTERDAY OUR article was about the common medical emergencies of infancy and childhood. This was printed in recognition of the present situation that doctors are scarce and hard to get and the housekeeper in the family will have to administer the first part of the first aid most of the time. Today we will consider the medical emergencies which may occur to adults.

Dr. Clendenning will answer questions of general interest only, and then only through his column.

Adults are not subject to emergencies from natural disease nearly as much as children. The diseases of age tend to creep up on the victim slowly. But adults come more into contact with machines and moving objects and bad food. So adult emergencies are more likely to be trauma—cuts, bruises, burns, sprains, broken bones—or poisoning.

A possible fracture should always be suspected in a collision accident—being knocked down by an automobile, etc.—or a fall, and falls are very common household accidents in the late summer and early fall, what with getting up on rickety ladders for house cleaning or going down dark cellar stairs to start the furnace, etc.

Don't Move Patient

You are in the presence of a person who has suffered such an accident, and there is no doctor or anybody else around—what are you to do? Well, the first piece of advice I feel like giving is that of a famous old Dublin practitioner who was outlining his final testament to a favorite assistant who was leaving him to go out to a wilderness of patients of his own. The young man had departed and closed the door when the old doctor ran after him and said—"And, oh, Charlie—one other thing—don't do too much!"

The tendency when a person has been knocked down or fallen off something and is lying dazed in a heap is to display great activity when as a matter of wisdom masterful inactivity is called for. Do not try to move them about too much, or lift the head, or arrange the clothes. The injured person is bound to be in more or less shock and such movements only add to the shock.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

S. L.:—What causes the stomach to rumble between breakfast and lunch; lunch and dinner, every day? I don't even feel hungry.

Answer: It doesn't mean anything. Sometimes it gets to be a bad habit. The stomach picks up bad habits as well as the rest of us.

A. G.: What is the cause of neuritis and what is neuritis? What kind of diet will cure it?

A.: The term neuritis is used very indiscriminately by both doctors and laymen. Any pain along a nerve path is called neuritis, when, properly, it should be called neuralgia. Neuritis is an inflammation or degeneration of a nerve and usually leads not only to pain but also to paralysis. Many are the causes of neuritis—infection, degeneration by lead, and other poisons, nutritional disturbances—such as diabetes and Vitamin B deficiency (beriberi). Only in the last case is diet effective.

Odds and Ends About Ohioans in Capital

By EARL BERKLEY

WASHINGTON—The recent attempt of Rep. Ed Rowe of Akron to reorganize the House had the makings of a doubleheader Ohio show.

Spotlighted in the first half, of course, would have been Rowe himself—simply because he was the author of the reorganization resolution which could have resulted in the election of Republican Leader Joe Martin as speaker in place of Sam Rayburn, Texas Democrat.

Then, if first-term Rowe had gone through with his surprising plan and succeed in unseating Rayburn, Ohio would have gone after the Republican leadership for Rep. Tom Jenkins of Ironton.

Some say Jenkins has as good a chance as any other. He has the 100 per cent backing of his own state's 29 House Republicans and other midwesterners. He is being groomed for the race next year if his party wins control of the House.

Martin himself dissuaded Rowe from offering his resolution at this time. Other experienced members said it was unorthodox.

But Rowe hasn't abandoned the idea entirely. He still thinks the Democrats lack a true majority entitling them to control of the House and committees. He says the true majority is made up of Republicans and southern Democrats opposed to some administration policies.

With this in mind, the former Akron City councilman is prepared to submit the resolution whenever, in his words, "it becomes obvious that dilatory or partisan political tactics impede the normal, expeditious legislative processes."

nouncement that the 37th (Ohio) Division could not be returned from the South Pacific as a unit does not mean that individual members are barred from furloughs.

While Secretary Stimson said return of the whole division is out of the question, the department emphasized that all members of the armed forces are eligible for furloughs home after certain periods of service.

"A procedure has only recently been placed in operation," Stimson said, "which will effect the return of some of the soldiers on a rotational basis who have been in the South Pacific and Southwest Pacific theaters for two years or longer."

A busy wartime congress paused the other day in memory of the 66 men who died in a coal mine fire at Powhatan Point July 5. The names of the men were placed in the congressional record by Rep. Earl Lewis of St. Clairville along with the statement that "each of them had in his soul the stuff of which heroes are made."

"Out of this terrible disaster," Lewis said, "let us hope and pray that new safeguards may be evolved for the men who daily risk their lives in the mines that we may be warmed and the wheels of industry may not stop, and that the nation, now engaged in the death struggle of war, may not lack the weapons to win a speedy victory."

Two Chillicothe boys, James Baird, a high school senior, and Emory Reeves, sophomore, had the time of their lives during a recent visit in the capital. They decided the Supreme Court Building is the most beautiful and impressive structure among the many they saw. They called on their congressman, Walter Brehm of Logan, and he took them to lunch in the House restaurant.

Under glass in the library of congress is a lithograph from a sketch of the Rev. L. F. Drake, chaplain of the 31st Ohio Volunteer Infantry, preaching at Camp Dick on November 10, 1861. The yellowed sketch was made on the spot by A. E. Mathews, Middletown Strobridge Co., Cincinnati. The lithograph is among pictures of "U. S. Military Life 1916-1861."

Rep. P. W. Griffith has placed in the congressional record a resolution of the Marietta Chamber of Commerce thanking the navy for naming the training camp at Port Hueneme, Calif., for an Ohio-born naval commander.

The commander, Robert W. Bedford of Marietta, lost his life in the service September 7, 1943.

How Different Will be Post-war Homes?

Matt Doorly, our local carpenter, has been showing us architect's drawings of the kind of post-war houses that we're going to live in. Some of them look like squared-off dominoes; some are streamlined like they were going to fly. And they're all filled with fancy things like air-conditioning and what-not.

"Sure change our home life!" Matt says importantly.

"Shucks," says Dan Mason. "It isn't the shape of a house, or the gadgets in it, that make up your home life."

"What is it then?" says Matt.

"It's the little things," says Dan. "Like a well-worn chair before the fire—and a good book—and a friendly glass of beer after a hard day's work. Little things, that are a part of living."

From where I sit, Dan's absolutely right. And I think the men who dream of home from overseas agree—that it's the small, familiar pleasures, that add up to home.

Washington at a Glance

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON—If figures don't lie, there's a great deal of tokum being talked and written about women workers in the post-war world.

On one hand are those alarmed at the prospect of millions of women being thrown out of work. On the other are those equally concerned with the possibility that millions of women will refuse to relinquish their new-found paychecks and freedom from men and will completely upset the peacetime labor market.

As a matter of fact, neither is likely unless unemployment becomes general—a state which our industrialists, more than a score of government agencies, and Congress are planning right now to avoid.

There are now, according to the women's bureau of the Labor Department, about 18 million employed women. About five million of these never held or sought jobs before. They represent the women who have replaced men and on the surface would appear to be those who will have to go when Johnny comes marching home and wants his old job back.

The Census Bureau estimates that if the peacetime trend of the last 50 years had been maintained in the decade 1940-50, there would have been 2,500,000 more women workers anyway. The Census surveys indicate that even with the war stimulus, there will be less than a million more women seeking work by 1950 than there would have been normally.

The other one-and-a-half to two million are those whose post-war plans don't involve tending the wheels of industry.

This, of course, is a five-year view and won't hold if the war suddenly collapses and ten million men return in a matter of months to seek employment. There is, however, no such indication. Even if Germany falls before winter, post-war policing and rehabilitation probably will keep millions abroad for into 1945 and others will be poured into the war in the Pacific. Even with the end of the global war, demobilization plans call for a long, slow mustering-out process.

If, however, great disruptions arise in employment, it is true that women workers may find themselves faced with greater difficulties than men. In such an event, the priorities provided by law for veterans and the seniority system used by most employers and unions in laying off surplus labor would militate against them.

And some employers who now complain that absenteeism is too high among women workers would welcome an opportunity to return to an all-male force.

With this exception, the post-war outlook for women workers is generally about what it is for men. There is no doubt that the war has opened new vistas for both women workers and employers, but not one that both wouldn't have found anyway within a few years had there been no war—that is, if Census figures don't lie. And if they do, it would be the first time.

Dickson-Owens Vows Exchanged

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Dickson of Burbank, New York, are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Frances, to Robert Owens, son of Mr. and Mrs. Justin Owens of near Jeffersonville.

The single ring church ceremony was performed on Saturday, August twelfth, in the Burbank Methodist Church. The bride, who wore for her marriage the traditional floor-length wedding gown and veil of marquisette, had as her only attendant her sister, Miss Betty Dickson. Miss Dickson wore a pink gown made along similar lines to that of the bride, with a pink flower hat.

The bride is a graduate of Millbrook Memorial School and the New Platts State College for Teachers, in New York. The bridegroom is a graduate of Ohio State University, Columbus, and is associated with his father in farming in Fayette County.

The newly-weds are now on a wedding trip through the New England states, and are expected to arrive at the Owens' home in the Pleasant View community next week, where they will make their home.

BALANCE IS AIM OF CONTROL OF SALE OF LUMBER

Dealers Here Believe That Situation in General
Will Improve

Lumber dealers here agree generally that the new plan for control of the sale of lumber put into effect by the War Production Board August 1, and known as regulation L-335, eventually will make for better distribution among civilians and that conditions will improve under the new order. It allows for a closer check up on the usable inventory by WPB and will curtail much of the past waste buying.

Dealers and consumers both are required to get certificates of priority to buy, and while they admit the situation may seem somewhat pinched at present, they point out that the order is designed to balance on a national scale the approved orders against the rating which gives preference to armed services.

Distributors are permitted to sell from 5,000 to 8,000 feet of lumber every three months without rating, which means an average of less than 100 feet a day. Farmers may buy up to 300 feet during the three-month quarter but if the job requires more, they must get a priority from the local WPB office. They are permitted $1,000 on construction during the fiscal year (Jan. 1, to Dec. 31) on all buildings other than their main residence and also have a AA-2 and AA-3 preference rating on all but their own dwellings.

Most of the lumber now on hand, the distributors here said, was bought with a farm priority, leaving the distributor with very little stock on hand which can be sold to other consumers. They added that so far as the farmer is concerned, he is better off now than heretofore, although that does not hold true with the individual consumer. However, application may be made to the War Production Board for relief in emergency jobs.

Distributors said the demand is great but that their stocks are at present very "irregular." Some items are available now and some are not—but all agreed that in the long run they feel it will work out for the best interests of all concerned.

DR AND CHURCHILL MAY GO INTO PARIS

To See Parade of Allied
Troops in City

LONDON, Aug. 24—(P)—The London Daily Herald said today plans were being made for President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill to be present in Paris, "if that is practical," when Allied troops parade under the Arc De Triomphe.

French troops will head the Allied parade, with General Charles De Gaulle probably having the place of honor, the newspaper added.

The Daily Mail said a conference between Roosevelt and Churchill would "take place within a matter of weeks on French soil."

GERMAN TANK DIVISION CRUSHED IN NORMANDY

WITH THE CANADIAN FIRST ARMY, Aug. 24—(P)—The German 12th SS tank division, accused by an Allied board of murdering 19 captured Canadian soldiers early in the French campaign, has been destroyed in the battle of the Normandy pocket.

A Canadian staff officer said today: "If the 12th SS ever shows up again on a battlefield, you can be quite sure it is an entirely reformed division bearing the same number as the one which has been eliminated."

Jeffersonville Gunner On 50 Combat Missions

S-Sgt. Loy Sanderson, at Gun in Liberator Bomber

To S-Sgt. Loy M. Sanderson, a graduate of Jeffersonville High School who has participated in more than 50 combat missions over enemy territory, one stands out in his memory—the attack on the vital ball bearing plant at Steyr, Austria—according to a special delayed dispatch just received from the headquarters of the 15th AAF in Italy.

Of that raid, the 20-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Loy Sanderson who now live in Springfield, said:

"Approaching the target area we were attacked by ME 109s and FW 190s. They were skilled fighters and did everything in the book to stop us. In spite of their efforts, and heaviest flak concentration I've ever seen, we made a good bomb run and headed for home. Then the fun really started. The original group of Jerry fighters was joined by a second group, including ME 110s, ME 210s and JU 88s. As often as they could avoid our outnumbered escort, they would attack the bomber formation. This kept up for almost two hours, and although we got back safely, I lived a couple of lifetimes in that two hours."

The dispatch gave no details concerning this attack, either as to date or location of base.

Sgt. Sanderson is a gunner on a B-24 Liberator and has taken part in bombing attacks on targets in Austria, Hungary, Romania, Czechoslovakia, Germany, Italy and France. He is a member of a heavy bombardment group that has been cited twice by the president of the United States for extraordinary achievements. The first citation was for the low-level attack on the Ploesti oil fields and refineries in Romania in August of 1943 and the second was for "outstanding efficiency and sustained performance" in strategic support of the Eighth Army in the Middle East.

After his graduation from Jeffersonville High School, Sgt. Sanderson took a job as a steel foundry worker in Springfield and entered the army in February of 1943. He attended gunnery school

FRIDAY MEETING FOR PROTECTION WHEN WAR ENDS

Not To Curb Jubilation City Manager Says as He Gives His Views

"This meeting is called for the purpose of trying to form some plan of action to take care of people when the news of victory comes. Without some plan, the safety of the public would be imperiled," Walter L. Stambaugh, city manager, commented today on the meeting of business and professional people called in the Common Pleas court room Friday at 7:30 P.M. (last time).

Although the as yet embryonic plan is not designed to curb jubilation when the Nazis quit fighting, it will be designed for the safety of the people, Stambaugh said in outlining his conception of the purpose of the meeting.

"Looting and vandalism will not be tolerated," Stambaugh said. He indicated an auxiliary police force may be drafted for the expected crowds in the downtown district.

All establishments selling intoxicating liquor will close, Stambaugh indicated. "Closing could be made mandatory," he said. The state liquor store will be closed for 24 hours immediately after the news of surrender comes.

Stambaugh said Police Chief Vaden Long had made a partial survey of bars in the city and had found a willingness to cooperate in closing.

A parade, band music and open churches were other possibilities Stambaugh said he thought would be considered at the meeting. He emphasized again and again the importance of preventing celebration excesses when the surrender comes.

RADIO TECHNICIANS ARE NEEDED BY NAVY

Men of 17 Eligible To Take Test for Training

The Navy needs men—particularly radio technicians, J. E. Marsh, recruiter in charge of the Chillicothe Navy Recruiting station, said today.

"All young men of 17 years of age are eligible to take a qualifying test, and if successful, will be rated as seaman first class and sent to a special Navy training school where they will receive ten months of technical instruction. At four and six month intervals, examinations will be given and at the completion of training these men will be rated as petty officers second class and assigned to duty," Marsh said.

For men who wish to take the first qualifying test, an educational background including one year of high school algebra, general mathematics and general science with some practical knowledge of shop practice, radio and electricity is necessary, Marsh pointed out.

Men who have received induction notices are not eligible to take this test until after they have passed through the pre-induction physical and been assigned to the Navy, it is emphasized.

More information about the test may be obtained from the U. S. Navy recruiting station in the Post Office building at Chillicothe.

MEMORIAL BOOK IN LIBRARY FOR MRS. COFFMAN

Former Pupil Pays Tribute
To School Teacher; Book
Is on Art

"The Arts and Man", by Raymond S. Stites has been added to the Carnegie Public Library here as a memorial to Mrs. Haidee Van Winkle Coffman, whose interest in art had such a great influence on her pupils throughout her years as a teacher in the public schools and afterwards.

The book is one of great beauty and of continuing interest, usefulness and importance. It contains more than 1,000 illustrations, Miss Elizabeth Johnson, librarian, said.

Mrs. Coffman's appreciation of the finer things of life and her deep and sincere interest in each of her pupils endeared her to all who knew her. Stuart Robin Bradley, of New Orleans, grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bradley and a former pupil of Mrs. Coffman, paid this tribute to her when he learned of her death.

"Haidee Coffman's death is a sad event for our town. Haidee Coffman was the kind that sustained faith in human nature. Everybody loved her because she saw the best in everybody and said nothing when it wasn't lived up to. The last time I saw her must have been ten years ago, but she was such a vivid memory that time didn't matter. I can see myself in her history class 30 years ago. I studied harder for her than for anyone else."

The memorial volume is not, however, a mere "picture book," but is a clear and stimulating story of the development of all the arts. It explains and illustrates the importance of the great painters, sculptors and architects, showing the relation of each to the other and sets them against a complete background of the philosophy, politics, music, poetry and drama of their times. Miss Johnson said of it:

"The discussion of the Parthenon, for example, shows how many of its universally admired proportions are based on the Greek theories of music which had grown out of the philosophical ideas of Pythagoras."

"Each of the thousand illustrations has been printed from a new plate made especially for this book. Some are line drawings showing in simplified form the pattern the artist or architect has followed. Many illustrations are

FREE CIRCUS ACTS AND FIREWORKS AT CONEY

The Flying Romas, sensational high wire trapeze artists, are one of a number of thrilling circus acts to be presented at 4 and 9 o'clock daily, Aug. 25 through Labor Day, Sept. 4, at Coney Island, Cincinnati, "America's finest amusement park."

Other headliners in the "Victory Sky Revue", as the production is called, include Zenda Malikova, high wire artist; and Vonnice Wilson, aerialist described as "the little girl with the nerves of steel."

Each evening, following the circus acts, a spectacular fireworks display — in the best present fashion — will be presented. Among other things, Coney patrons will get a chance to see the principle upon which the rocket bombs are projected.

The entire show is free to Coney patrons.

reproductions of well-known favorites—some of less well-known masterpieces equally beautiful and inspiring. Eight are in full color.

"The author, Raymond S. Stites, has been a professor at Antioch College since 1930. After graduating from Brown University, he continued teaching while taking courses in sculpture and design. For five years he studied in Europe and took his doctorate in the history of art and philosophy at the University of Vienna."

"This book, to which he has devoted five years of writing, is a large, yet easily read and compact volume, printed on paper especially manufactured to display the beauty of the illustrations. It may be reserved for future use if it is out when asked for."

Cards Still Walloping Cubs; Only Major Tilt Wednesday

By JACK HAND
By the Associated Press

It's no disgrace to lose to the St. Louis Cardinals this year, but the Chicago Cubs threaten to make a life's work out of the habit.

After bowing 11 times in a row when they were lowly cellarites, the Cubs tangled with the Red Sox last night for the first time since they attained their lofty but unsteady perch in the first division.

The result was the same. Twelve straight defeats have been inflicted upon the Chicago team by their St. Louis sparring partners.

Never in the history of the major leagues has one team swept an entire season series from a rival. The New York Yankees of 1927 came the closest when they slaughtered the St. Louis Browns 21 times before bowing 6-2 in their last meeting of the year.

In 1937 Pittsburgh trampled Cincinnati by a 2-1 margin in total games and earlier in 1909 the Chicago Cubs themselves slaughtered Boston in similar fashion.

Charles Grimm's Club have 10 more chances to keep their names out of the record books as the only club to go through an entire season without beating all of their rivals at least once.

The Cooper boys teamed up on Chicago last night, Morton coasting to his 18th win 11-1.

St. Louis hit a new season high with a winning percentage of .750 by their latest success. Winning three out of every four games in their first 116 starts, Billy Southworth's boys are bearing down on the Cubs' fabulous 116-win record of 1906 when they also set the modern high pace of 763.

The entire American League was idle yesterday with all the other Nationals and the schedule makers provide only two senior circuit games today and another off day in the Harbidge Loop. Both leagues get back to normal Friday.

FOX STAKE IS WON BY TRUE CHIEF

GREENVILLE, Aug. 24.—(P)—True Chief has added the Fox Stake, America's blue ribbon racing event, to his spectacular winnings for 1944.

Piloted by the veteran Tom Berry, True Chief showed his heels yesterday to a field of the nation's best pacers at the Greenville Fair in winning both heats by more than two lengths, taking top money of the $15,690 purse—$7,645—for his owner, Leo McNamara of Indianapolis.

Jimmy Creed finished second to take $3,822, Josedale Dandy Copper, third money, $2,293, and the fourth place split of $1,529 was divided equally between Cita Hal and TNT Hal.

Four trotters made a great bid for the Ohio Colt Stakes, with Betty Spencer taking two second places plus a first-heat victory to annex top money.

Blue Again won three straight heats in the $1,000 2:15 pace, pressed by Royal Junior in each, and Charon Arleen copped first money in the $1,000 2:14 pace event.

Joe Heistand Wins Fourth Shoot Title

VANDALIA, Aug. 24.—(P)—The shotgun packin' daughter of the Grand American Trapshoot's most persistent contestant took the spotlight today as the forty-fifth annual tournament went into its second round of competition.

She was Mrs. George Peters of Springfield, Ohio, daughter of Charles A. (Sparrow) Young of Springfield, who has shot in all 45 Grand Americans. She needed 50 straight targets to tie Mrs. Ruth Knuth of Indianapolis for the women's North American clay target championship.

Darkness, showers and gusty winds halted the proceedings late yesterday while scores of shooters still were awaiting their turns or were on the firing line. Among them was Mrs. Ruth Peters.

Mrs. Knuth, who previously had won the Champion of Champions event for women, had finished her round with 183 out of 200 targets in the Women's Clay Target event.

Mrs. Peters had missed 17 of her first 150 targets, leaving the task of hitting every one remaining to stay in the race.

Newly crowned champions in the records at the end of the first day were Capt. Joe Heistand of Hillsboro, and Forty Meyers, Fla., and John Peterson of Racine, Wis.

Heistand broke 200 straight targets to give him the North American clay target title for the fourth time. He did it with practically no warmup, for he said the only transshipping he has done this year was in the preliminary in which he qualified as a member of the army team which came to the Grand.

Peterson, a 50-year-old shipping clerk, edged out the favored Herschel Cheek of Clinton, Ind., in the Champion of Champions shoot, the event which is limited to state champions. Peterson, who has won the Wisconsin state title three times, broke 98 of 100 targets, while Cheek and George Wagner of Dayton, O., tied for second with 97 each.

Other championships decided before the weather put an end to the opening day's round were: Class AA—Heistand, 100x100. Class A—C. T. Jackson, Stormville, N. Y., 100x100. Class C—Paul G. Butterbaugh, Lancaster, O., 100x100. Class D—R. Schuhardt, New Castle, Ind., 97x100.

Veterans—Tom Houghton, Flint, Mich., 98x100.

Cast-off Jerry M Winning Races for Harold Laymon

For a horse that many a good horseman said would never be "worth foolin' with," Jerry M is doing all right.

Harold Laymon, the newcomer to the sport of harness racing who developed Wilkin into a sensational pacer two years ago, bought the cast-off Jerry M from John Brown of Circleville last year. He said at the time that he "just wanted to see what he could do with him."

With patience and his own home remedies (he keeps them secret) Jerry M came along in his training better than ever he had hoped for.

Thus far this season, Jerry M has won $1,443—not bad for a cast-off. He topped his performance for Laymon Wednesday at London when he won the Madison County Fair stake for 2:18 pacers with his share of the $700 purse.

Jerry M's chief trouble was that he hit his knees. That is what horsemen thought had knocked him out permanently. But, Laymon's patience and treatments got results.

He has won four races out of five, this season, all in straight heats. In the other, his first start for Laymon at Richmond, he finished second, second and third. His victories were marked up at Xenia, Urbana, Hilliards and London. And, there is no evidence that he is through. His next start will be at Marion's night races over the track where his owner drove his first race two years ago and won with Wilkin.

manian victories, foreign radio reports were heard telling of Romania's capitulation to the Allies, but there was no information available from Russian sources.

Meanwhile, in the new offensive northeast of Warsaw, aimed at East Prussia, the Russians advanced to within eight miles of the German fortress of Lomza, 20 miles below the Prussian border, and liberated another 80 towns, the bulletin said.

Nazi counterattacks from the suburb of Praga, just east of Warsaw, were driven off, with the Germans suffering sharp losses.

Advance in Italy. British and Indian troops of the Eighth Army have made a considerable advance on both sides of the upper Arno River in Italy, in the face of lessening enemy resistance, and have captured a number of important points including Mt. Foreto, headquarters announced today.

Minor gains were reported in the Adriatic sector, where Polish and Italian troops established themselves firmly on the banks of the Metauro about 12 miles from the coast. Allied forces are in contact with strong enemy positions on the north bank, the bulletin said.

Considerable enemy patrol activity was noted around Florence.

Allied headquarters disclosed that "indiscriminately aimed enemy shells fell in most of the central and southern portions" of Florence yesterday. The extent of damage and casualties was not announced.

Allied Air Attacks. Great American air fleets were reported by Berlin to be striking Germany today from both Britain and Italy after a night in which swift Mosquitos made a "concentrated" attack on Cologne while other planes bombed Seine River crossings.

Allied fighters and bombers filled the channel skies during the mornings. Mosquito bombers raised the 24 hour bag of German tanks, barges and vehicles destroyed or damaged to around 1,000 as the Allied air offensive knocked out two of the Germans' crossing points over the Seine River near Elbeuf.

With Allied ground forces within 150 miles of the German border, air attacks on the Reich itself can make an increasingly important contribution to the immediate progress of the campaign.

The U. S. 15th Air Force chewed off another chunk of the Luftwaffe's fast dwindling power in central Europe yesterday, destroying 45 enemy planes in the course of sweeping raids which included a heavy attack on the Vienna area.

The battle of attrition over central Europe thus has cost the Nazis at least 102 planes in the last two days, in addition to 100 reported destroyed recently in raids on airdromes in Hungary and Yugoslavia.

Allied air losses likewise have been heavy. Twenty-nine aircraft were lost yesterday and three during the preceding night. Enemy fighters attacked formations of Liberators over Vienna with rocket and cannon fire yesterday.

COUNCIL RAISES SALARY OF FOUR CITY EMPLOYES

Taxis To Pay $75 Yearly License Fee from Now On, Ordinance Says

Salaries of four city employees were raised by ordinance when city council met Wednesday night in the city building.

Mrs. Charles Baldwin (Ruth Bush), city clerk, had been earning $80 per month. Her salary was raised to $100 monthly. Miss Vera Veal, city auditor, was voted a $200 yearly raise, bringing her annual salary to $1,900.

Police Judge R. H. Sites, who had been receiving $1,000 annually for his position as police judge and who serves as chairman of the council as well, will receive $1,200 yearly now.

The salary of Police Captain Jess Ellis was raised from $155 to $165 monthly. All salary raises were made by ordinances which the council passed unanimously. Money for the increases will come from the city's general fund.

City Manager Walter L. Stambaugh said the salaries of these city employees had been set eight years ago when the city manager form of government was adopted here. "Times have changed, the work is harder—double or triple what it used to be—and the cost of living has gone up," he commented as he recommended the salary boosts.

He paid tribute to the two men and women, praising their contribution to the city. Stambaugh said the State Highway Patrol had commended the police court here, saying it was one of the few in the state recognized as a State Highway Patrol court.

$75 Taxi License
Council unanimously passed an ordinance requiring a $75 yearly license fee for taxis in the city after Garrett Ramey, proprietor of the Try-Me Taxi Company, voluntarily agreed to pay the license fee for each of his nine cabs. The previous fee was $25 annually.

There will be no increase in taxi fare, it is indicated.

Stambaugh reported that oiling catch basins in an attempt to rid the city of a mosquito scourge had been nullified by the rains, which washed the oil from the surface of the water, but said the basins would be oiled again when the weather permits. He reported also that the alley clean-up campaign, launched weeks ago, had received "full cooperation" of the citizens and that the alleys in the city are the cleanest they have been since the first of the year.

Lon Buckley and Harry Todd of South Fayette Street appeared before council to ask that something be done about a six trailer camp behind a filling station leased by Homer Rose and operated by Earl Powell at the corner of Elm and Fayette streets. Both men said the occupants of the trailers were noisy and kept the neighborhood awake. City Solicitor John B. Hill said an injunction would be brought against the camp declaring it a nuisance. The council promised the two men it would take action on the situation.

Horatio Wilson appeared to ask Council why East Street had been included in the city ordinance authorizing installation of parking

CITY SCHOOLS LUNCH PROGRAM STARTS OCT. 1

Serving Will Be Done on Same Basis as Last Year, Murray Says

The school lunch program for this year will be handled on much the same basis as last year, according to a statement made by A. B. Murray, superintendent of the Washington C. H. public schools, Wednesday.

Supt. Murray received a notice from the government a few days ago stating that the same financial assistance as last year would be given in the lunch program. This means that the government will help up to nine cents on the cost per individual meal, depending on the class of meal served.

School lunches will be available beginning around October 1, and will be served in three of the school buildings, the High School, Eastside and Sunnyside. There will be two servings each noon at the High School cafeteria, as there were last year, the elementary grades being served first, which requires from twenty minutes to a half hour, and the High School group served after.

The city schools had no summer gardens this year but will be prepared to serve well balanced and nutritious meals at the three schools, Murray said.

It was explained to him the street had been chosen as a boundary merely for convenience and that meters would not be installed in the residential section because they could not pay for themselves there.

FORMER FAYETTE COUNTY BOY IS NOW MISSING

Pilot of B-24 Plane Was on Mission Over Germany; Based in Italy

A telegram from the War Department received Wednesday by the family of Sgt. Robert Kruger Thompson, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Thompson, formerly of this city, reports that he is missing while piloting a B-24 on a recent mission over Germany.

Sgt. Thompson enlisted in the Air Corps a year ago last February and received most of his training at various air fields in Texas. He had been overseas only about a month and was based in Italy. Before enlisting he was attending his Junior year at Ohio State University.

Sgt. Thompson was born near Jeffersonville and his grandmother, Mrs. Edward Kruger, is a resident of Fayette County. His parents moved to Dayton some ten years ago and his wife has been making her home there with them at 314 Orchard Drive. His sister, Rosalee, is an Ensign in the WAVES, stationed at Washington D. C.

GREENHOUSE USING PHEASANTS ON BUGS

Experiment Is Being Tried Out In Circleville

Pheasants are being put to work in Circleville.

An interesting experiment is being tried out at the Brehmer greenhouses, and according to C. E. Webb, of the state conservation division, it is proving successful. The pheasants are keeping insects and weeds out of the chrysanthemums, roses and asters.

The birds are turned loose in what is known as the cloth house and get no morning meal in order that the bugs and worms will appear more appetizing. In the afternoon they are fed a mash and grain ration and a sour milk drink once a week to prevent droopiness.

Leaf hoppers, measuring worms, young weeds and other pests are promptly disappearing, the flowers and pheasants are flourishing, and Robert Brehmer, operator of the greenhouses, is being saved a heap of work.

When the "pest campaign" is over, the birds will be liberated in Pickaway county.

KINDERGARTEN OPENING DATE SET FOR SEPT. 6

Approximately 65 Children Are Expected To Enroll; Jane Durant, Teacher

The actual registration for youngsters starting to kindergarten this fall will take place on Wednesday, Sept. 6, the day after the opening of school, Miss Opal Davids, principal of Cherry Hill School stated Thursday.

Approximately 65 children are "considered registered," as they attended the kindergarten party held at Cherry Hill last spring, and were given a "pre-vue" of the work by last year's kindergarten group. Miss Jane Durant will be in charge of the kindergarten department and will probably handle it alone unless the registration is larger than is now anticipated. In that event, efforts will be made to secure an assistant teacher.

It is stated that children from the Sunnyside and Central districts will attend the morning session. Those in the Rose Avenue and Eastside district, will go in the afternoon, and those around Cherry Hill will be taken care of at whichever session has the least number enrolled.

The children will be taken to Cherry Hill in the school bus as heretofore which is to be driven again this year by Todd Ward.

This may happen for any one of several reasons.

First: Your neighbor's telephone service may be essential to the war effort or to public health, welfare and security. Such service has first call on the few facilities available in your community.

Second: There may be spare cable conductors to the central office and wires at his home. But in your street, all facilities may be in use.
